To whom it may concern;

CMTC has been using Captivator Systems automated online government bidding application since January, 2013.

In our first month of usage we successfully secure U.S. Government DOD awards in excess of $48,000.

In addition to Captivator's full automation and complete streamlining of the government bidding process, our success has been enhanced greatly by our Bid Strategy training engagement with Lee Levinstein.

We have found Lee's government bid optimization services to be of great value and his long-term experience in the government sales arena has been instrumental in assisting our team with its defense sales success.

I would highly recommend Mr. Levinstein and Captivator Systems to any company who wishes to either improve their government bidding effectiveness or even to begin to compete and win in the government procurement environment.

Thank you Lee and Captivator,
