To whom it may concern:

Global Source One International has been using Section Seven Software for over a year now.

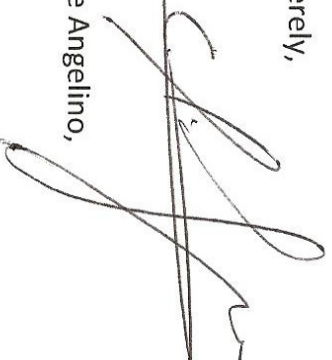

Thanks to Section Seven Software superior government bidding tool, we have been able to successfully secure over $746,000 of U.S government contract awards.

Section Seven Software allows us to bid on government contracts in a speedy and streamlined fashion. We have been satisfied with the application's simple automation, user friendliness and intuitive navigation. Most importantly, we have been very appreciative of the exceptionally attentive customer service and technical support provided by Section Seven Software staff.

Lee Levinstein; Section Seven's CEO, has been helpful, responsive and instrumental in teaching our staff the intricacies of government bid strategy and best ways to win additional government business.

I would highly recommend Section Seven Software to anyone wishing to enter into the government contracts business and manage it with a fully automated comprehensive solution.

Sincerely,

Eddie Angelino,

CEO
